Under the slogan "Discover the unexpected green sides of Luxembourg in the last Grand Duchy in the world", the Young Gardeners invite you to the Grand Duchy. This under the organisation & coordination of the FHL professional association of gardeners & florists, young European gardeners from the entire European green sector such as landscape gardeners, florists, nurserymen, ornamental plant and vegetable gardeners will explore the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, the green heart of Europe. The starting point of the CEJH Congress event is the city of Luxembourg, the youth hostel, Fort Olizy.

After a first day of sightseeing, the renaturation of the Petrusse with its sustainable green spaces in the urban recreation area of the city of Luxembourg as well as the exploration of the "underground" of the city park "Edouard André" with the friends of the history of the fortress, the final part of the 1st day, if the schedule allows it, will be the visit of the "Stade de Luxembourg". The 1st day of the Congress will be crowned with the official opening of the Congress of the Community of European Young Gardeners (CEJH) in the presence of national & european personalities from the horticultural sector. It is already the 3rd time that the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg hosts this congress event and the organisation & coordination is guaranteed by the FHL, the national business association of gardeners & florists.

Other planned highlights in the congress programme are: the new infrastructures of the horticultural school of the "Lycée Technique Agricole" in Gilsdorf, the 'Awarded Garden of Excellence' rose garden of the "Château de Munsbach", the revitalisation of the industrial wastelands in Belval as well as many innovative family businesses from the floriculture, horticulture & viticulture sector. As well as many other 'Luxembourgish' horticultural features will enrich the diverse, unexpected, green CEJH Congress programme.
